Jet Fighters Tote A-Bombs

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United States has baby A-bombs small enough to be carried by jet fighter-bombers yet possibly as powerful as their king-sized brothers.

Detailed information on the bombs is a carefully guarded secret. In fact, there has been no official announcement as yet that they exist.

The first definite indication that such weapons are in production was gleaned by a reporter seeking information on discussions among military leaders over the possibility of arming this country's North Atlantic allies with atomic weapons.

The discussions were said to be based on the possibility of using "lightweight" bombs as tactical weapons to replace expensive ground forces in Europe.

While the size of the "baby" A-bombs is secret, the fact that they can be carried by jet fighter-bombers gives some hint of their weight. The Republic F-84 Thunderjet, a typical jet fighter-bomber now in use by the air force, can carry two 1,000-pound bombs, one under each wing.

Polish Diplomats Break With Soviets, Leave For Sweden

HELSINKI, Finland—(P)—Two more Polish diplomats here are reported to have broken with their Communist-led government and left for Sweden.

A diplomatic informant said Vice Consul F. Miszkowski and Dr. J. Zetroski, cultural attaché at the Polish legation here, had gone to Sweden after a political squabble with their superiors and plan to go on to Argentina.

Dr. Wladimir Umiastowski, former Polish charge d'affaires, broke with the Warsaw government April 14 and took his wife and two children to Sweden en route to Argentina.

Chinese Reds Free American Freighter

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—The Chinese Communists have released the U. S. freighter California Bear, which they had held since it collided with and sunk a small Chinese ship in the Yellow sea April 20.

The owners, Pacific Far East Lines, reported yesterday that Capt. William Murray, the skipper, remained behind at Tientsin on his own volition for an inquiry into the collision.

The Communists held the freighter responsible for the accident and demanded compensation. The Chinese ship, the Sinar sank with the loss of an estimated 70 lives.

Agreement Assured For Adding Germany To European Family

By SYDNEY MIRKIN

LONDON—(P)—The Big Three foreign ministers wind up their conference today assured of a unified German policy.

The trio—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman—have agreed on a long range plan for bringing Western Germany into the West European family.

Announcement of the plan was made last night. No details were given.

Acheson had made the German one of his top projects for the meeting which has reviewed the progress made by the anti-Communist world in economic, political and military spheres.

The French, who brought two dramatic surprise proposals to the conference, have had one turned down and the intentions of the other approved.

Although no official announcement has been made, it was learned from an informed source that Schuman brought up Premier Georges Bidault's proposal for a "supreme Atlantic Council for peace."

Britain and the United States turned thumbs down on the plan because it would superimpose another organization on the many already linking the nations of Western Europe, an informed source said.

This informant said Bevin and Acheson felt the new organization would only complicate the international scene.

The Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel resources of France and Germany under international authority, which other nations would be invited to join, won guarded approval in principle, a western spokesman said.

The spokesman said the ministers could not take any definite stand on the plan, however, until all the details were surveyed.

Schuman will discuss the details of his proposal with the three allied high commissioners for Germany on Sunday, a French informant said.

The United States promptly fired back with a statement accusing the cabinet officer of trying to shift the blame for his own "hasty ill-considered action" to Congress.

In a 3,500-word statement yesterday, Donaldson said the department has received many complaints about the service cut-backs he ordered last month.

"A large percentage of these appear to have been inspired by the officers of the National Association of Letter Carriers," he added.

The service cuts include reduction of mail deliveries in residential areas to one a day, shorter window hours in post offices, fewer pickups from street corner boxes, parcel post delivery on a once-a-day basis, and an end to night handling of mail other than first class, parcel post and newspapers.

The union promptly fired back with a statement accusing the cabinet officer of trying to shift the blame for his own "hasty ill-considered action" to Congress.

Party Feuding Blocks Action In Legislature

Recess Threatened By Republicans

LANSING—(P)—The executive office today was trying to act as intermediary in a budding war between house Republicans and Democrats.

The Democrats by controlling more than one third of the house votes have been able to block giving two important measures immediate effect. The action takes a two-thirds vote.

They have heard rumors that the Republicans are secretly planning to recess the legislature indefinitely when its business is over rather than adjourning.

This would tie Governor Williams' hands and he could not call the legislature back into any more special sessions.

The Democrats say they are picking out bills to which the Republicans want to give immediate effect, blocking the action, and holding out the promise to unblock them if the Republicans will permit a full adjournment.

Williams' aides are trying to arrange a meeting of the leaders of both parties for Monday to get assurance from the Republicans that they will adjourn and a promise from the Democrats that they will abandon their blocking tactics.

Both measures the Democrats have sabotaged are administration bills. The strategy appeared first Thursday when immediate effect was blocked on a bill to improve the competitive position of Michigan wines.

In Friday's session, the Democrats blocked immediate effect on a bill to permit school districts having identical boundaries with cities to use city registration lists.

Democrats voted for the bill and helped pass it 66 to one, but they were dead to Republican pleas that immediate effect was needed so the bill could be used at this summer's school elections.

Backers said the bill would save school districts "thousands of dollars."

Democratic tactics made Republicans so angry they rammed through 44 to 21 a motion to send the measure back to committee for possible death.

Armed Posse Of 100 Hunts Soo Fugitives

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(P)—One hundred armed men patrolled a wild area of bush country today in a land, sea and air hunt for two reportedly desperate fugitives.

The search for the pair, believed to be escaped from an Ohio prison, centered near the tiny community of Barbeau.

On one side of the triangular area was the St. Mary's river. On the other was a dense swamp. On the third was the posse, gradually sifting the forests for its prey.

Police said the fugitives were believed to be Lloyd Russell, 29, and his brother, Paul, 24. The pair escaped from the London, O., prison farm on May 8, 1949.

They are also wanted for questioning in a $4,400 bank robbery in Nottawa, Mich., near the Indiana line.

As the posse grew and the search intensified, searchers were aided by a state police airplane and a coast guard boat which patrolled the river.

The hunt began here Thursday.

Yesterday one of the posse, Jim Cameron, saw a single man answering one brother's description appear at the other end of a field.

Cameron, a reporter from Radio Station WSOO, shouted for the man to halt. He fled and Cameron fired twice with a pistol, but the man continued his flight.

The strikers, members of the CIO Transport Workers Union, walked off their jobs early today after last minute mediation negotiations collapsed. Main issue in the dispute is the union's demand for higher pay.

No new negotiations were scheduled.

The company said the strike directly involved 700 flight service personnel—stewards, stewardesses and pursers. They placed picket lines around the company's far-flung American bases and the maintenance workers, members of the same union, refused to cross them.

The company said supervisory employees had taken over maintenance work.

The airline operates a fleet of 140 planes. It has a total of 14,000 employees.

Czechs Order British Agencies Closed For Hostile Propaganda

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—(P)—The British cultural and information services today had the same marching orders that the Czech government gave to the U. S. information services a month ago.

Accusing the British of continuously violating a 1947 cultural agreement by spreading hostile propaganda, the Czechs ordered the agencies to close by noon today.

The British also were accused of employing persons involved in anti-state activities. The Czech government ordered closure of British information centers in Prague and Bratislava as well as British council offices, supplying books and lectures, in Prague, Bratislava and Brno.

Mother Hits Teacher

MT. CLEMENS—(P)—Mrs. Pearl Krieger, convicted of knocking down a 59-year-old school teacher because the teacher struck her son with a ruler, faces sentencing May 15. The teacher, Mrs. Ella Thorp, charged she was knocked down three times by Mrs. Krieger, when the latter angrily invaded her fourth grade school room.

Outlook Dim For Early Peace In Crippling Railway Strike

CHICAGO—(P)—The crippling strike of locomotive firemen against four key rail systems spread to a stretch of the Union Pacific railroad today.

At the same time, striking firemen began picketing Pennsylvania railroad yards at Harrisburg, Pa., after the Pennsylvania put 10 freight trains in operation.

Meanwhile, hopes for an early break in the strike appeared dimmer after the National Railway Mediation board revised its peace efforts without avail.

There had been earlier reports that the rail union had offered new proposals designed to bring peace with the four struck carriers.

But Chairman Francis O'Neill, jr., of the National (Railway) mediation board, apparently squelched the report. After a meeting last night with representatives of the four big railroads involved in the strike, he said, "They're just as deadlocked now as they were at the start of the strike Wednesday morning."

O'Neill said there had been no new offer by David B. Robertson, president of the striking Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

In the midst of the reported peace offers, Robertson announced the union was extending the strike against the St. Louis and the Appalachian divisions of the Southern Railway. The two divisions had not been included in the original strike call.

There also were new reports of minor violence on the strike-bound New York Central lines—at Elkhart, Ind., and Cleveland.

O'Neill said the board members would remain in Chicago, ready to meet with the carriers and union representatives at any time in attempt to settle the dispute. The chief issue is the union's demand for a second fireman on multiple diesel locomotives.

Some 200,000 already have been made idle, most of them railroad employees. Others forced to leave their jobs included coal miners and factory workers. There were some layoffs and curtailment of work at automotive plants. The Pennsylvania mining areas have laid off 20,000. Some 4,000 were made idle in the Indiana coal mines.

A big food distributor in Pittsburgh said he has $300,000 worth of foodstuffs, most of it perishable, tied up in freight yards. California citrus shippers expressed concern over movement of the navel orange crop. Forty per cent of the crop is normally handled by the Santa Fe.

Block Canvass For Karas Memorial Opens Monday

$25,000 Fund Is Objective

Solicitors Will Accept Pledges

Citizens from all walks of life are joining hands in the campaign to raise funds for the Frank Karas Memorial bandshell project.

Escanaba high school students, business and professional men and women, industrial workers and others are actively working on various committees directing the money raising campaign.

The objective is $25,000 for the construction of a bandshell in Ludington park as a fitting memorial to the late Frank Karas who, for a quarter century, taught hundreds in Escanaba how to play and appreciate good music.

Will Accept Pledges
Contributions may be made by installment payments during the year. Pledges will be accepted.

The block-by-block solicitation for funds will start in Escanaba on Monday, August Brazeau Jr., chairman of the canvass committee, today issued a call for volunteer workers to solicit some unassigned blocks. Those wishing to help are asked to telephone 2412-R.

Zone captains for the block-by-block campaign are: Mrs. Catherine Locke, Mrs. Harry Gruber, Mrs. Vernon Johnson, Edward W. Rudness, Mrs. Lency Clairmont, Alvin Ness, Mrs. Helmer Flink, Frank Bender, Robert F. Schmitt, Mrs. N. E. Nelson, Mrs. W. J. Delta Road Service And Payroll Cut; Must Keep Within $315,800 Budget

In special meeting last night the Delta county road commission took decisive steps to put expenditures into line with income and avoid, if possible, a 1951 accumulative deficit of $80,000.

Ten employees were laid off and operational bills will be pared for the remainder of the year to reduce costs approximately $48,000.

This saving will overcome an anticipated overdraft of $48,000 for this year.

Only Minimum Service
William Karas, road commission superintendent - engineer, said that unless additional sources of revenue are found, and that is not expected, only minimum maintenance work on the county road system will be possible if the commission is to live within its budget and avoid a growing deficit.

By laying off 10 men payroll costs will be cut a total of $20,000, by reducing operations the bills for the year can be cut by $28,000, and minimum snow removal in the coming winter may save some money—unless snow conditions are bad.

The road commissioners, Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone, Elmer Klaseff of Escanaba and Harry Greene of Garden, were all present at last night's special meeting held in Garden.

Lay-off on Seniority
The 10 men to be laid off are all equipment operators and the lay-offs will be based on seniority under agreement with the employees. Five of the men to receive lay-offs are in the Wells district, one each at Rock, Bark River and Garden, and two at Rapid River.

Sees Tourists As Cold War Weapon

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Harold Jones, a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, believes that "if passenger air travel were possible today between Russia and the United States, Stalin would have a hard time convincing people that the FBI was shooting victims on the streets of New York," Jones said in an interview.

The road commission in making the reduction in payroll and operation costs agreed that road service will be down to little more than patching holes and occasional dragging. Gravel crushing will have to be halted and there can be no basic improvements of the county road system to prepare the roads to withstand the 1951 spring breakup.

The commission's decision to "live within the budget" followed a number of appeals for financial assistance to the Delta county board of supervisors.

Fund Appeals Fail
Recently the Delta county tax allocation board rejected an appeal of the supervisors to allocate 2 mills, about $54,000, from local taxes to assist the road commission this year.

Last year the townships contributed $33,000 for road purposes within their boundaries; and pledged a total of $34,000 for this year. So far only $15,000 has been received and with payment of the remainder the townships have indicated they will not contribute more for roads.

Citing recent criticism of the road commission's purchase of new equipment, the commission pointed out that continued use of old, inefficient equipment on which many repairs must be made is creating a loss of $37,000 a year.

Last year $43,000 was spent for new equipment, and this was increased to $52,000 in the budget this year. For comparison, new equipment, including the purchase of a large gravel crusher, cost approximately $72,000 for each of the years 1947 and 1948. Last year 100,000 yards of gravel was produced, the largest amount at the lowest cost on record in the county.

The road commission cited the increased cost of snow removal as another factor in the financial problem. The cost for the winter of 1949-50 was $148,509 compared to $126,785 for the 1948-49 winter.

Open Forty-Hour Services Sunday At St. Thomas'

Forty-hour services will be opened at the 10 o'clock mass Sunday at St. Thomas the Apostle church here.

Evening services will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette of Gladstone will deliver the sermons. Nocturnal adoration will be held Sunday and Monday nights. Masses on Monday and Tuesday will be offered at 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 a. m.

The solemn closing is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Tuesday. The public is invited.

Fifty-three children of the parish will make their first communion at the 7:30 mass Sunday. Men of the Holy Name society will receive communion in a body at this mass, and will hold a breakfast in the Croatian hall afterwards. A guest speaker and a program has been arranged.

Girls Convene At Stephenson

300 Students Are Attending Parley

More than 300 high school girls from Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties today are attending the annual Older Girls' conference, being held at Stephenson.

Mrs. Lennah Backus, parent education specialist at Michigan State college, is delivering keynote addresses and also serving as discussion moderator. Jean Worth, editor of the Menominee Herald Leader, will deliver the address at the evening banquet tonight.

Dora Rose of EHS served as discussion leader for a panel on "How To Live With Parents" and Barbara Viau, Ann Plucker, Shirley Coen, Mary Sue Fleming, Mary Shepeck, Sandra Shipman and Pat Lindquist of EHS participated in the discussion.

Home responsibilities of youth were discussed by five EHS students under leadership of Mary Sue Fleming. Participating were Martha Moran, Elaine Sivertsen, Marilyn Hedsten, Joan Frasher and Jerine Hendrickson.

Morality Makes Sense

Harmony in the home was discussed by a panel comprised of Roberta Gardner, Jean Goodreau, Arlene Koehler, Martha Moran, Elaine Sivertsen and Phyllis Rouse.

Betty Lemerand served as student leader for a discussion of sex education in the home, from the parental and child viewpoint. Serving in the discussion group were Donna Jensen, Lorraine LeDuc, Suzanne Lindstrom, Noreen Gingsass, Susan Lindsay, Betty Lemerand, Betty Houle, Bernice Finn, Ruth Bullock, Mary McKee, Joyce Olson, Lorna Bushey, Betty Belanger, Joan Johnson, Carol Christensen, Mary Cass, Dorothy Gustafson, Joan Northrup, Ann Kinnon, Joyce Bolger, Charmaine Freeman, Joan Frasher and Jerine Hendrickson, all of EHS.

Dating versus courtship under the heading of "Morality Makes Sense" also was discussed by Escanaba participants in the conference, under leadership of Suzanne Lindstrom. Those taking part in this open discussion were Ann Plucker, Shirley Coen, Barbara Viau, Jean Goodreau, Roberta Gardner, Arlene Koehler, Betty Lemerand, Ruth Bullock, Joyce Olson, Phyllis Rouse, Carol Christensen, Dorothy Gustafson, Joan Northrup, Ann Kinnon, Mary Shepeck, Lorna Bushey, Donna Jensen, Suzanne Lindstrom, Noreen Gingsass, Susan Lindsay, Betty Houle, Pat Lindquist, Bernice Finn, Mary McKee, Betty Belanger, Joan Johnson, Mary Cass, Mary Sue Fleming, Joyce Bolger, Marilyn Hedsten and Joan Nelson.

Lorraine LeDuc, Suzanne Lindstrom, Charmaine Freeman and Sandra Shipman also participated in a discussion on marriage.

Suzanne Lindstrom, Jerine Hendrickson and Joan Frasher furnished entertainment during the conference. Suzanne Lindstrom played a piano solo, "Manhattan Serenade," and Joan Frasher and Jerine Hendrickson played a violin duet, the Symphony No. 2 by Charles Dancila.

Miss Irene Schiefelbein accompanied the 39 EHS girls attending the conference.

Escanaba Used As Example In Institute Here

Recreation facilities and programs in Escanaba were used as examples of successful community recreation in the U. P. recreation institute which was held here Thursday and Friday.

The institute, attended by 15 Upper Michigan recreation leaders, ended here last night, following a tour of Escanaba recreation facilities and demonstrations in playground crafts by Mrs. Jeanette LeCaptain of Escanaba.

William G. Robinson, assistant in community organization at the University of Michigan, was in charge of discussion sessions.

At a dinner meeting yesterday in the Sherman hotel, Professor Robinson outlined recreation programs and noted that the Escanaba plan serves as an example in other U. P. communities and also extends into parts of Lower Michigan. City officials and members of the recreation board were guests at the institute dinner.

Representatives from Ishpeming, Sault Ste. Marie, Stephenson and Rock attended. George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director; George Ruwitch, assistant high school principal; Rev. James Bell, a member of the recreation board; Mrs. Jeannette LeCaptain of the recreation staff, and Miss Catherine Cheadle of Gladstone participated in the institute program.

They Find New Hope In A 'New Land'

Displaced Young Latvian Couple Tell of Persecution By Nazis and Soviets

ROCK—Persecuted by the Russians... persecuted by the Nazis who drove the Russians out... chased out of their country by the Russians, who turned the tide and ousted the Germans again... months of wandering, homeless, around Germany... families torn apart from each other... no home... scanty clothing... little nourishing food... then, America and freedom.

That, briefly, is the story of Edgar and Biruta Veldre, young displaced Latvian couple befriended by, and temporarily living with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weldum on a farm two miles south of Rock.

The Veldres, with their two-month-old son, Ilgvars, didn't get too good a first impression of America, at that.

They landed at Rock on the Chicago & Northwestern streamliner almost at midnight about three weeks ago in the midst of one of the worst blizzards of the winter.

What made it seem worse was that when they had left Munich, Germany by air only two days before flowers were blooming.

Then, after the tiring air trip across the Atlantic and the train ride from New York to Chicago and Chicago to Rock, to arrive at midnight in a blizzard—not knowing what sort of reception they would receive.

Host Was Latvian

But they were quickly put at rest by Weldum.

Much to their delight, Weldum spoke their language. His own parents were natives of Latvia.

He drove them to his comfortable farm home and made them welcome. There, after rest and food, they poured out their story of wanderings, fear, trepidation, hunger and, at times, abject despair.

Edgar Veldre, who is 30, is a nice looking chap, ruddy complexioned with light-brown hair and a pleasant smile.

He is an electrician and lived in a small town of Valmiera about 80 miles from the Baltic sea before being chased out by the Russians. He understands English well but speaks with some difficulty.

His wife, Biruta is only 20—an attractive, pleasant young woman who speaks German fluently and English, somewhat hesitatingly, but with excellent diction and choice of words.

She lived at Cassia, a few miles closer to the Baltic.

Their son is a cute blond, blue-eyed, wide-awake youngster.

Met in Germany

The Veldres didn't know each other in their native Latvia. They though it held little hope, was preferred to a life of terror under the Russian heel.

Arrival of the American troops was met with mixed feelings. The Latvians had no way of knowing whether they would be any better than the Russians or Germans.

LOOKING AHEAD—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Veldre, with their young son, Ilgvars, look ahead to a new life in the United States after years of persecution by Nazis and Russians in their native Latvia. They now are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weldum near Rock while Veldre tries to find a job as an electrician. (Daily Press Photo)

other in their native Latvia. They though it held little hope, was preferred to a life of terror under the Russian heel.

Arrival of the American troops was met with mixed feelings. The Latvians had no way of knowing whether they would be any better than the Russians or Germans.

Yanks "Pretty Wild"

And for the first few days, said Biruta, they weren't much better. The young American soldiers were "pretty wild," especially with the girls, but improved later when discipline had been established by the officers.

Then the Latvians liked the carefree, easy manner of the Yanks and were intrigued by their gum-chewing, wise-cracking and apparent indifference to money—especially where dice were involved.

So, when after working for the Americans they had an opportunity in Germany, where there were about 120,000 displaced Latvians, and were married in January, 1949, at Neustadt.

When the Russians first overran Latvia, Biruta had to work on a farm before she was allowed to attend school. She said the Russian gestapo held the natives in close check, often spitting someone off in the dead of night without explanation or apparent cause. As a result fear and suspicion made everyday living a mental strain.

Under the Nazis, she said, she and her mother were forced to work in an airplane factory and received daily a pint of rutabaga soup and some bread, which they had to share with a younger sister.

When the Russians came back again in September, 1944, about 6,000 Latvians jammed into a ship and sailed to Germany which, at the time, they thought, they grabbed it.

What about their future? Frankly, they don't know. Weldum has found work on his farm for Veldre but the latter would like to follow his career as an electrician.

He is seeking work along that line but would be willing to take mechanical or farming jobs he could handle so he and his wife could settle down to a home of their own in a land which appears to offer them real freedom of living for the first time in their lives.

"We are not afraid to work and we want to become good citizens," said Veldre.

The smile in their young son's face seems to reflect the lightness in their hearts at what they hope will be a new way of life and happiness for them.

April Weather Cold And Rainy

Even Snow Marked Delayed Spring

The past month was cold and rainy, with a bit of snow. The U. S. Weather Bureau reminds local residents in a meteorological summary for April.

The summary is proof of what Delta county residents experienced during April, if proof is needed.

Statistically speaking, the average temperature for the month was 32.1 degrees, which was 3.8 degrees below normal.

The highest temperature of the month was 61 degrees on April 17, and the lowest a chilly 9 degrees above zero on April 9.

Precipitation (snow and rain) was slightly above normal for the month—and included five inches of snow on the ground April 1.

There were only six clear days for the entire month, five partly cloudy, and 19 days described as cloudy.

Not to be outdone, the wind also kicked up a fuss in April, blowing up to a maximum of 45 miles an hour and predominantly from northerly directions.

Altogether it was a weather month that disappointed those who believe that April showers bring May flowers.

Bark River

Dance For Graduates

Students graduating from the Bark River-Harris high school this year will be honored at a dance sponsored by the Bark River Grange Thursday night.

The dance will be held in the Bark River community building, immediately after commencement exercises. Leo DeRoock's orchestra will furnish music.

An invitation has been extended to friends and parents of graduates.

K-C Initiation Planned Here For New Club Opening

About 100 Escanaba persons will be initiated into the Escanaba council of the Knights of Columbus at a U. P. meeting to be held here May 18, Richard Juetten, grand knight of the council, said today.

More than 500 Upper Michigan Knights of Columbus are expected to attend the informal grand opening of the new clubhouse here. The official grand opening of the new clubhouse will be held June 18, at which time an additional 100 members will be inducted.

Construction of the new KC building here, which adjoins the old clubrooms, was begun last fall. The 100 by 47 foot brick addition houses a bowling alley and snack bar in the basement, an auditorium on the first floor and KC conference and initiation rooms on the third floor.

Escanaba KC members emphasize that the new addition is to be used as a community building, and will be available for all, whether or not they are members of the K of C council.

The building will be completed in time for the official grand opening in June. Only the first coat of plaster has been applied on the interior and installation of the heating unit is yet to be completed. The new addition will be used during the initiation and informal opening May 18.

The Escanaba council now has a membership of 500.

Increased Popularity Is Certain For Ludington Park This Summer

If a person were called upon to select Escanaba's most important natural asset, he probably would choose the city's beautiful lake frontage. The most beautiful strip of lake frontage is, of course, Ludington Park.

Few communities the size of Escanaba can boast a municipal park of the size and natural splendor of Ludington Park. It is truly the city's show window and the outstanding recreational area in Escanaba, if not, in fact, in the entire upper peninsula.

The return of the municipal beach to Ludington park this summer will materially increase the public patronage of the park. Work is well along on the construction of the new beachhouse which will be ready for public use before the peak of the summer bathing season is reached. The new beach, in the making for the past several years, is already sufficiently completed to permit the transfer of municipal bathing facilities this year from the Sand Point location, where the temporary beach has been established for the past five summers.

Kelly In Favor Of Straits Bridge

FORMER Gov. Kelly's statement here this week that he favors the creation of a Mackinac Straits bridge authority and "anything that will bring the people of the upper and lower peninsulas closer together" should serve to keep the straits bridge project out of the political campaign.

Governor Williams has already indicated his support of the bridge project and now that Kelly has done likewise, there is no issue for political bickering on the bridge deal.

The bridge project is neither a Republican program nor a Democratic program. It is, in fact, a citizens' program because the push behind the bridge movement has come from a group of citizens who have been extremely careful to keep the project out of politics.

The legislature has not yet acted upon the bill to create a Mackinac straits bridge authority but the prospects for enactment of the bill at the special session seems extremely hopeful now.

Give Father A Break, Nurse Recommends

AMERICAN fatherhood owes a debt of genuine gratitude to Miss Hazel Corbin, general director of New York City's Maternity Center association. Miss Corbin said in a nursing convention at San Francisco this week that it's a good idea to let the expectant father into the delivery room instead of shoving him into a waiting room or corridor when his wife is having a baby.

Happy day! Finally someone has stood up for father's rights. Maybe father won't actually accept the invitation to enter the delivery room, but it's surely nice to know that someone is concerned about the shabby treatment that traditionally has been the lot of father at the maternity center.

Perhaps some day there may even be repentance for the inconsiderate pushing around we fathers have suffered in the maternity cases through the years.

Senate Kills Plan To Revise NLRB

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S plan for reorganizing the national labor relations board has been smothered by the U. S. senate, which recognized the Truman plan as a left-handed method of nullifying the Taft-Hartley act.

Mr. Truman presented the reorganization plan to congress on the contention that it simply fulfills a recommendation of the Hoover committee for governmental reorganization. Mr. Hoover himself, however, said that it was not the intention of his committee to abolish the independent powers of the general counsel of the NLRB which would, in effect, destroy the labor relations board as it is now constituted.

The president has made numerous attempts to get the congress to repeal the Taft-Hartley act but to no avail. Failing in that objective, he submitted the reorganization plan that would make the general counsel subservient to the viewpoint of the Taft-Hartley act.

The time may come when legislation to restrict union activities is unnecessary, but abuses by labor leaders in recent years indicate that that time is not here now. Legislative controls are essential for the protection of the public interest.

Mother's Day

By Gordon Martin

Many times we're looking backward to those wondrous childhood days, when we first became aware of loving hands and tender ways. Then we always took for granted all the constant care we knew, and it took a span of years for us to know its value true. But at last we realized that Mother gave us life and more, and dear God, please grant her day be filled with happiness.

Give to her on earth the things that she so faithfully has earned, and please let her know this day her love is gratefully returned. Give her rest from weary tasks and grant her all the best in life, which she well deserves because her toil has eased our worldly strife. Give her health and joy and plenty, let her do the things she likes, being honored by the older folks as well as little tykes.

And if she has since departed to the heavens up above, let her soul repose in peace and know Your all-biding love. Let no one of us fear death but show the way we feel, so that Mother knows the place she holds, as at her feet we kneel. Thus, dear God, we ask Your blessing as our debt we try to pay—help us realize the year around, it's always Mother's Day.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A priest with sad eyes stood on a stage in the National Press building and intoned: "Lord, help thy wandering children to defend and finally redeem our lost freedom."

Before him stood a conglomeration of men from many distant countries — all exiles. Their faces were vaguely familiar, like photographs in an old newspaper. For these were the delegates to the International Peasant Union Congress and included such leaders as Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who once made headlines as prime minister of Poland; Imre Kovacs, secretary general of the once powerful Hungarian Peasant party; and G. M. Dimitrov, a stormy politician of Bulgaria.

After World War I when this writer spent two years in the Balkans, these peasant leaders were considered socialists and radicals by the then rulers of Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Later, they came to head the governments of their countries as left-of-center parties somewhat similar to the British Labor government of today.

SHOT PEASANT LEADERS

But when Moscow took over, the first thing the Russian commissars did was to line the key members of the Peasant party up against the wall and shoot them. Moscow recognized the agrarians, like British socialism, to be the greatest threat to successful Communism.

So, this week in Washington, about 100 of the exiles who managed to escape are staging the International Peasant Union Congress, trying to form the skeleton of a "green internationale" which someday may overthrow Communism in eastern Europe.

They report that in Hungary less than 1 per cent of the farmers have joined the Communist collectives; that a new Buchenwald torture camp is located on an island in the Danube; that the independent peasant of the balkans is the chief enemy of Communism.

Chief hope of these peasant leaders is to get U. S. backing for internal revolts.

Note — American hero of these exiled leaders is Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier — Journal, who, while studying these Balkan countries for the state department, was one of the first to see the importance of encouraging peasant independence.

DUCK-LOVING JURIST

It didn't get into the papers, but a U. S. district judge, William C. Coleman of Baltimore, served virtual notice on a group of duck-hunters recently that they were free to violate federal game laws as far as he was concerned.

Judge Coleman, who has taken an oath to uphold the laws of the United States, announced that he had more than 30 defendants before his court charged with baiting duck-blinds and that he had agreed with the U. S. attorney's office that they should not be prosecuted.

"We have a miniature reproduction of what we had in prohibition—an unenforceable law," Judge Coleman told Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant chief of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "I frankly approve of not prosecuting violators of anti-baiting regulations."

"Ninety-five per cent of the hunting in Maryland is done over baiting," Judge Coleman continued. Then turning directly to Dr. Cottam, he asked: "And what are you going to do about it?"

The meeting before which he spoke was a gathering of sportsmen and wildlife authorities gathered at Annapolis from Maine to Maryland. New England game experts were shocked at the judge's vituperative statements. They were also surprised at the attitude of eastern shore hunters who wanted to keep the duck season open most of the winter.

Judge Coleman was their most vigorous spokesman. He not only wanted the waterfowl season lengthened, but the daily bag increased, and shooting permitted at sundown. Judge Coleman wanted this unrestricted hunting, regardless of Dr. Cottam's explanation that the supply of ducks was not unlimited, that ducks were settling down for feeding at sundown and were mating in January — a period when the judge advocated hunting.

After the stormy session, Dr. Cottam remarked:

"This is the ninth meeting of sportsmen I have had in various parts of the country. All of them have realized that if we have unlimited shooting there soon won't be any ducks left. But this meeting is the most selfish I ever attended."

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Springfield: Here is a furniture ad featuring a "Credenza Buffet." I do not find "Credenza" in my dictionary and they cannot find it at the public library. Will you please explain it for us?—Mrs. S. C. G.

Answer: Credenza is an Italian word meaning "credence." An archaic meaning of credence is "safekeeping." Hence, during the Renaissance, certain elaborate sideboards, used for keeping safe such valuables as silver plate and vessels of silver or gold, were given the name "credenza." Modern reproductions are either called "credenza buffets" or "credence (pronounced: KREE-d'ns) buffets."

Q. Will you please describe the origin of the word bridegroom.—M. W.

The word bridegroom is largely nonsense, for it suggests a groom (a man-servant; a stable boy) for a bride, which of course is not and ever has been its meaning. The original Anglo-Saxon word was brydguma, meaning "bride man" (bride's man). The word entered Middle English as brudgome, changed to bridegome, and then, by confusion with the word groom, grew an extraneous "r" and became bridegroom.

International tangles haven't a thing on the sieve lining of last winter's overcoat.

Interestingly, novels are among the things that make folks jump at conclusions.

THOUSANDS OF QUESTIONS pour in to the Department of Agriculture every day, and here are some of the steps along the way. Top left, the family gathers around while mom writes her query. At the department, a staff member knows that two publications already available will give the general answer, but consults a file which reveals another circular specifically helpful. She then sends the letter, carrying numbers of the publications, to the typists who fix up the addresses and numbers of selected bulletins. At the Government Printing Office, left center, the tapes are received and clerks select the pamphlets. The process continues until the material finds its way into the mailbags, at the rate of 425 every hour, and thence back home.

Thousands Of Questions Fired At Agriculture Department Each Day

By HERBERT HOLLANDER

Does a double-yolked egg hatch two chickens? What's the largest cucumber ever grown? What do you think of long skirts?

Can you tell me the name of a factory that cans food without salt?

Which is the bottom end and which is the top of an apple?

How can I take the burrs out of a sweater?

How can I keep a cherry tree from blooming?

Do termites leave a trail of sawdust?

May I speak with Mrs. Carter who had a baby last month?

In the play, Uncle Tom's Cabin, what was little Eva's last name?

Will there be pre-cooked meals in tomorrow's supermarkets?

Will you please send this letter to the office that handles surplus beer?

How do I make a compost?

These queries aren't the result of anybody's over-active imagination. They are, rather, just a small cross-section of the 3,500 to 5,000 questions fired at the U. S. Department of Agriculture every single day by citizens throughout the country.

Answering those questions is a huge and important job, and long years of experience at it have resulted in the setting up of a system which results in accurate and usually prompt replies even though in many cases, as is quite evident, finding the answers may take a bit of doing.

In some cases the questions are answered by letter.

Whenever possible, however, replies are made with pamphlets and circulars, for it costs less to mail out a piece of printed matter than it does to write individual and comprehensive letters.

Hundreds of Phone Calls

About half of the letters coming into the department's office of information ask for publications by name and title. Most of the remainder can be answered by a department publication, of which there are literally thousands. Some, however, require consultation with department scientists and specialists.

In addition to these thousands of daily mail queries, the department also gets hundreds of telephone and wire requests for information. In many instances questions are able to talk directly with the top authorities. That is true also when problems are brought to the department in person, which frequently occurs.

Because the department has a rather hard-earned reputation for accuracy, and because the American public has a right to expect reliability, the information issued by the Department of Agriculture must be strictly accurate. Beyond that, it must be stated in clear and plain language. While the department's letters and publications by no means are free from that virulent Federal bug, gobbledegook, it is true that there is less of it there than in almost any other agency. That is something the department has learned in years of dealing directly with plain folks all over the country.

The department also knows from experience that sometimes printed material doesn't fill the bill, or arrives late, and then the brickbats fall with a resounding thud. Yet the proportion of inadequate or belated replies is relatively small and is improving from year to year as techniques become increasingly efficient.

But a very recent published reference to that mythical publication—"The Love Life of a Bull"—first popularized years ago by the late Senator Pat Harrison in an amusing and enthusiastic speech on the floor of the Senate—actually brought several hundred requests to the department for copies of the pamphlet from folks who evidently run as they read. In several instances they were high school biology teachers who wanted to use the "publication" for classroom purposes.

The department issued its information rather ineffectually until Secretary M. Rusk became secretary back in 1939. He observed in his first annual report that during the first ten months of that year 40,000 letters of inquiry had come from "all sorts and conditions of people in all parts of the country." Rusk thought not enough was being done to tell the public quickly what the department was doing which would be helpful to people both in the cities and on the farms. "Time and expense, ability and experience, lavished on the work of this department can have no practical results unless we can lay their conclusions promptly before the people who need them," he declared.

Doesn't Have All Answers

From those beginnings the department's information services have been built up, and as rapidly as its scientists in all of the many fields in which they operate—farming, forestry, agricultural engineering, economics, soil chemistry, new products research, and countless others—reach accurate, practical conclusions the facts are made available. When the department doesn't know the answers—and there are many such queries—it says so, and endeavors to tell the questioner where he can get the information he seeks.

Of course, a good many times that isn't possible.

The department, for example, can reply promptly to the question "what can you do with milk besides drink it?" because all sorts of things are being done with milk these days, and it is able to give a lot of information when a veteran asks "should I go into the silkworm business?" but the department admits being a bit stumped when someone asks "Is there a doctor there?" It turned out, however, that the interested person really wanted a "doctor of evergreens," so even that question finally found a proper reply. But not even the department's ingenious telephone operators were quite equal to the recent demand: "Connect me with the haystack immediately!"

Letters from children—and there are not a few of them—have a special claim. Consider the trusting faith of the youngster who addressed the department with this query:

"A friend of mine told me that you supply ambitious young people with animals and flowers with which to start a business. I am ambitious and young, and so is my friend, and I wish to start a small business. If you please, would you send me a small cotton plant and a small yellow chick-

And another:

"The Department of Agriculture: Dear Sir: Is it fine where you are? Grandpa said it was like Spring there. Out here it isn't very nice, and it is still very cold. I have some new clothes, all except shoes. Love, Betty Jane."

Variety of Questions

The question-answering service is just one phase of the department's extensive information activity, which includes press, periodicals and radio and covers everything from crop reports to home demonstration projects, from 4-H Club meetings to popularized food facts, and much more; but it is the direct queries which come pouring into the department every day in their thousands which are the most human and fascinating.

Here is one which requires digging into the files: "What was the value of the principal farm crop in Massachusetts in 1949?" and, surprisingly enough, it is typical of many such posed in the course of a year.

Another asks the definition of a farm, a ranch, and a plantation; and this one wants to know by return mail whether "it is true that the albumen in egg destroys the B vitamins and therefore uncooked eggs should never be eaten raw?" A tough question, all right, but it got a promptly sage reply.

The increasing willingness of scientists to publish their findings promptly, in contrast with former years when many investigators were reluctant to publish at all, is playing a big part in enabling the department to answer the ever-widening variety of questions propounded. As one authority in the department puts it, "If it is useful, knowledge must be disseminated, and, if taxpayers foot the bill, they have a right to know what they are financing."

So when John Q. Public wants to know "which termites cause the most damage—the ones with little wings or the ones with big wings," he's told even if somebody has got to get out and start measuring wings.

And by the way, will someone please remind us to find out whether "it can be made from codfish?" A correspondent wanted to know that just yesterday, and it seems like a very good question indeed!

Letters From The People

Frank Karas Memorial

Dear Editor:

The Frank Karas Memorial project, it seems to me, is one that deserves the support of all music lovers and civic-minded citizens who are interested in building a better Escanaba.

First of all, an attractive bandshell in Ludington park would be a living memorial to a fine citizen and a great musician who did so much for music in Escanaba.

First of all, an attractive bandshell in Ludington park would be a living memorial to a fine citizen and a great musician who did so much for music in Escanaba. Frank Karas spent many extra hours with Escanaba school students to teach them to appreciate good music. He also devoted much of his time to presenting musical program free of charge at meetings of lodges, clubs and other organizations. All this he did without any thought of receiving compensation, for his satisfaction came from his music.

The bandshell is also a much-needed facility in Escanaba. Most other progressive cities of Escanaba's size have bandshells so that bands and orchestras can present concert programs in ideal surroundings.

Ludington park would be an ideal place for a bandshell. Concerts and pageants staged there in the summer time would be a good tourist attraction.

Give what you can to help build a bandshell and pay a much-deserved tribute to the late Frank Karas, who did so much for the good of Escanaba.

An Admirer of "Pa" Karas

Thoughts

Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.—Jeremiah 2:36.

The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the well-spring of wisdom as a flowing brook.—Proverbs 18:4.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

MOTHER'S DAY — Well, tomorrow is Mother's Day. There will be gala festivities all over the country. Mother will bake a cake, and wash the dishes; but on a specially pretty apron and cook a roast, and wash the dishes; be very grateful for the gifts presented to her at the dinner table—and go out and wash the dishes.

Mother is an American institution, like the Statue of Liberty and Washington monument. She is largely taken for granted. She has been there a long time—but if she were suddenly removed it would leave a vacant spot in the landscape.

OF ALL DAYS—Why people insist on one day of the year to honor Mother is strange. Mother is around for 365 days a year and she should be recognized daily for her good deeds.

Perhaps it is more convenient to put Mother on a pedestal for one day. The rest of the year she can do her good works without any special attention that might distract her from the cooking, cleaning, mending, and mothering.

Not that Mother isn't grateful for the small attentions she receives on Mother's Day. She is. But wouldn't it be fine if this attention was distributed over a longer period?

THROUGH THE YEAR — Think how pleased mother would be if, three days after Mother's Day, daughter came into the kitchen and announced:

"Mother, this is Mother's Evening—my night to do the dishes and yours to sit in the living room!"

Mother would probably fall over in the sink, the shock would be that great.

Or suppose father, the hardy breadwinner, got up a little earlier some morning, made breakfast, and brought it to Mother on a tray, so she could have that luxury of luxuries—breakfast in bed.

"This is Mother's Morning," he might announce. "She deserves it!"

Mother would probably be so pleasantly impressed she wouldn't notice the burned toast, underdone egg, and tar-black coffee.

As for the sons in the family, they might very well make every day "Mother's Day" by being polite enough to note that she exists as an individual capable of thought, feeling, and response.

Too many boys know Mother only as a chief cook and bottle washer whose principal accomplishment was the time she gave birth to those handsome and talented sons. Since then her labors have been faithful, but hardly noteworthy.

APPRECIATION—One of the best ways to honor Mother is to give her an occasional vacation from her family.

This serves a double purpose: It provides an opportunity for her to rest and get a new view besides that through the kitchen window; and it makes the family realize, by her absence, how important she is to every one of them.

THE BIG JOB—While everyone agrees that Mother has an important position in the family, few people understand that it is largely composed of a number of small but exacting daily services.

The thousand and one chores of house-keeping are combined with a personal watchfulness over the health and welfare of the individual family members—sometimes to the neglect of her own health and spirit.

To the conscientious Mother, the sun rises an dsets in her family; her heart and rises and sets in her family, and other interests are secondary.

Mother's work is never done. For when the household chores are finished, there is always the demand for her inspiration of spirit and the solace of her love. One day to honor Mother? It would take a thousand years.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Washington—A blanket warning to Americans in southern and western Europe to leave for the United States was issued tonight by the state department.

Lansing — Long-awaited installation of electric ovens and ranges at the Marquette branch prison has been authorized by the state budget director, the corrections department disclosed today.

Des Moines, Iowa — Miss Frances Ann Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickson, of Escanaba, has been initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority at Drake university.

Munising—Mrs. J. Vera Peterson was selected chairman of the Alger county tax commission at a meeting Monday.

Chicago—Ten thousand reserve officers and men of the Ninth Naval district will conduct training maneuvers in July and August off the Manitow Islands in Upper Lake Michigan, Rear Admiral W. C. Watts, district commander, announced today.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington — The London Naval treaty was presented before the senate today by Secretary Stimson, head of the American delegation, with the declaration that it represented a fair agreement and parity between British and American fleets.

Escanaba—Myron Good and Ellsworth Ranguette, students at the Upper Peninsula Airways, soloed for the first time yesterday in the school's training plane. Solos by these brings the total to three. Clarence Baumgartner completed solos earlier this spring.

Gladstone — Gladstone high school's trackmen will see their first competition of the season when they journey to Houghton Saturday to enter the third annual Upper Peninsula field and track meet. They will enter Class C competition.

Escanaba—Len Konecke, former catcher with the Escanaba baseball team, has begun making a favorable batting record with the American association team at Indianapolis, where he is playing left field. In the game Sunday, which Indianapolis won 19 to 7, Konecke hit a double, a triple and two home runs in his six times at bat.

C&NW Engine Leaves Rails

Accident Occurs At Iron Mt. Siding

IRON MOUNTAIN—About 40 feet of track on a North Western railroad siding near the company's passenger station on Stephenson avenue were torn up at 10:15 Thursday night when a J-4 engine, weighing 125 tons, slid off the rails and plowed into the roadbed.

The engine was being used to transport an ore train through Iron Mountain, and had towed the cars to the Antoine yards. It then returned to Iron Mountain, where the crew planned to stop and eat. As the train entered a siding near the depot, the engine and tender became derailed. The cause of the derailment had not been determined up to noon today.

The train crew notified railroad officials, and then waited for another train due in from the east. When that train arrived at about midnight, the engine was used to tow the derailed engine onto the track.

Some difficulty was experienced and four unsuccessful attempts were made before the derailed engine was finally brought back on to the track. All front drive wheels were off the rails.

About 40 feet of track were damaged and section crews were working this morning to repair the damage.

Briefly Told

Army Reserve Officers—Identification cards for Army Reserve Officers, which were processed April 12-19, are now available at the O. R. C. office, 705 Ludington.

Escanaba Camera Club—The Escanaba Camera Club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday at 611 Ludington. The print subject will be "Street Scenes."

Rotary Program—Allan Mathison of the Escanaba high school faculty will speak to the Escanaba Rotary club at its Monday meeting at the Delta hotel.

Plan Sale—A bake, fancy goods and home made candy sale sponsored by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be held at the Ford garage Friday, May 26, at 10 a. m.

Fined For Overload—In Justice Henry Ranguette's court today two trucks were fined for overloads following complaint by the state highway department. A. H. Huffman & Son, Evansport, O., paid a fine of $30 and costs; and the Bryan Handle company, Bryan, O., paid a fine of $50 and costs. Both arrests were made on US-2 at Bark River.

Motorist Is Fined—Robert F. Louis, 1126 Minnesota avenue, Gladstone, today pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to a reckless driving charge and paid a fine of $25 and costs of $8.25. He was arrested by officers of the sheriff's department following an accident at 1:40 a. m. today on US-41 in Wells township when his car collided with an auto driven by Donald Theoret of Gladstone Rt. 1.

Were You Counted?—Any resident of Delta county who believes he has not been enumerated in the 1950 Census is urged to get in touch with the census district office at the P. O. Building, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. You may communicate with the census office by telephoning 4205, or by mailing a postcard giving your name, exact street address and town, or give detailed instructions for finding your home if you live in the country.

Bois Blanc Island Unhappy As Part Of Mackinac County

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. — (AP) — Some influential people on Bois Blanc Island, at the northern tip of Lake Huron, think they should secede from Mackinac county.

The island, one of them argued today, should be a part of Cheboygan county.

Gene Babecek, Bois Blanc township supervisor, said State Sen. Hugo A. Nelson (R-Indian River) has promised to look into the matter.

Babecek said it takes him three days to go to St. Ignace, the county seat of Mackinac county, attend a meeting of the board of supervisors and return. That despite St. Ignace being only 31 miles away by boat and highway.

Cheboygan, on the other hand, Babecek declared, is only six miles away and serves as the general shopping center for islanders.

It's perfectly fine with Cheboygan county if Bois Blanc Island succeeds in making the shift. The county's board of supervisors has unanimously endorsed the proposal in an unofficial show of hands.

Russians Cheat U. S. Furriers In Trade

NEW YORK — (AP) — Here's a new twist to the cold war:

The Associated Fur Manufacturers of New York disclosed today it made a deal with Soviet Russia for the exchange of 12 live American mink for 12 live Russian sables. The animals were to be used for breeding purposes.

The trade was completed. But the New York furriers said they now have discovered the Russian sables were sterilized before shipment.

FAIR AND WARMER — The Civic Drama Guild of New York will present "Fair and Warmer", the third and final play in the all-professional drama series Sunday night, May 14, at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium. The series is sponsored in Escanaba by the Escanaba Lions club.

Family Living Discussion Topic At Meeting Here

Harmonious family living was the topic of an interesting all-day conference of Delta County Home extension leaders here yesterday.

Mrs. Lennah K. Backus, parent education and child development specialist at Michigan State college, was principal speaker and discussion leader. Arrangements for the meeting, attended by 34 women from 26 different county units, were made by Miss Ingrid Tervonen, Delta County Home Demonstration agent.

Morning sessions were devoted to comparison of family living today and many years ago. Many customs and activities of early family life are much less important today and some have disappeared entirely, Mrs. Backus noted.

Tension in present-day families, causes of conflicts and solutions for them and the functions of the modern family were the major topics in the afternoon session.

Building Personality — Money management, use of cars and other family property under a rationing plan, sharing of household work, management of children, the need for love, respect and privacy and other factors in family living were discussed.

Mrs. Backus pointed out that family conflicts can be solved by struggle and victory by one side, voluntary submission on the part of one person, compromise, integration through a joint solution and conversion to another viewpoint. The merits and occasions for each method were considered carefully. It was emphasized that not all conflicts need to be settled, and that some are better forgotten.

The modern family, the parent-education specialist noted, must provide physical comforts and necessities, fun, pleasure and a good time. It is the ideal place to learn to live well, she explained.

"The functions of the modern family are in terms of building personality rather than the making of things," Mrs. Backus emphasized.

Other topics discussed were the care of children, the place of the grandmother and the mother-in-law in family living, and attitudes toward family conflicts.

In summarizing the latter, Mrs. Backus observed that families should accept conflict as normal, should try to understand differences of people, get at the meaning and cause of conflicts, adopt a problem-solving approach and constructively plan for good relationships.

Home Extensions leaders who met here yesterday will give similar lessons to members in their groups at future unit meetings throughout the county.

Communists Prepare To Invade Chushan

TAIPEI, Formosa — (AP) — Chiang Kai-shek's elder son said today the Chinese Communists have decided to invade Chushan and Quemoy this month.

He said the decision was reached at an April meeting with a Russian general.

The two islands within a few miles of the east China coast are Nationalist blockade bases. Chushan is 70 air miles southeast of Shanghai. Quemoy is opposite Formosa.

Munising News

Pvt. Arnel Watson, who spent a seven-day delay enroute from Fort Riley, Kansas, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Watson at Shingletown, left Friday for Camp Stoneman, Calif. He expects to be re-assigned from Stoneman shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hase and son Joey left Friday for Detroit to visit with Mrs. Hase's sister, Mrs. Lillian Szalay for a week.

License That Dog, Owners Are Warned

City police in their campaign to enforce the city dog ordinance requiring that all dogs be restrained effective May 1 today advised dog owners to have their pets licensed.

The licenses may be obtained at the police station. The fee, set by state statute, is $1 for male and unsexed dogs and $2 for females.

The police reported that any dog with a license tag will be kept in pound if he is picked up running at large and the owner will be notified. It cost the owner $1.50 to obtain the dog's release from the pound.

Unlicensed dogs running at large in the city will be destroyed.

Mrs. Percy Owens Dies At Home Here; Funeral On Monday

Mrs. Percy Owens, 63, of 920 Second avenue north, died at 6 p. m. Friday at the family home. She had been ill the past year and for eight weeks was bedridden.

Mrs. Owens, the former Jennie Mary Charette, was born June 24, 1886 in Canada. She was a member of St. Joseph church here, the Daughters of Isabella, St. Joseph Altar society and the V. E. W. auxiliary.

The Escanaba matron leaves her husband, five sons, Earl and Orville of Escanaba, Clarence of Fenton, Mich., Russell of Chicago, and Kenneth of New York City; a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Erickson of Chicago; seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren; two brothers, Thomas Charette of Kingsford and Harvey Charette of Munising; and three sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Norman of Rexton, Mrs. Elsie Barcome and Mrs. Henry Marcier of Kingsford.

The body will lie in state at Anderson funeral home beginning at 2 p. m. Sunday. The Daughters of Isabella will recite the rosary at 4 p. m. Sunday, and at 8:30 p. m. the rosary will again be recited. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday from St. Joseph church and burial will be made in the family lot in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

New Drug Is Found To Cure Head Colds

CLEVELAND — (AP) — An anti-thistaminic drug described as harmless was reported by a U. S. public health service physician yesterday to have been 100 per cent effective during head colds in a group of 168 men.

Dr. Martin Ziperny, senior assistant surgeon of the U. S. Public Health Service, described the experiments to the U. S. Marine Medical and Dental Association.

He said the study was conducted at the U. S. Maritime Service Training School at Alameda, Calif., with the drug chlortrimeton. The cure was 100 per cent within 16 hours when it was administered within 24 hours of the onset of a cold. Dr. Ziperny reported.

Minnesota Voters Go To Polls By Boat

EAST GRAND FORKS, Minn. — (AP) — More than half of the residents here have been driven from their homes by the Red River flood or are living on second floors.

Many of them used rowboats as ferries to get to the polls for a special election yesterday.

They voted on a proposal to issue $165,000 bonds to improve the city's water system, built in 1908.

The bonds won, 262 to 10.

Property Demand Good

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Association of Real Estate Boards said today its members look for a "healthy stabilized demand" for both business and residential property for the rest of this year.

Germany's No. 2 Red Arrested

BERLIN — (AP) — The Communist-dominated east German government today announced the arrest of Kurt Mueller, west Germany's No. 2 Red.

Mueller was charged with being an "agent for a foreign power" and of having "committed other crimes."

The brief announcement printed in the Berlin Communist press did not disclose where the arrest took place.

West Germany's Communist party disclosed yesterday that it had expelled Mueller. The party charged him with suspicion of Titoism, "betrayal of the party in the meanest manner x x x constant connection with the secret service of a foreign power x x x and bringing hostile elements into the party and promoting them."

Mueller earlier resigned his seat in the west German parliament for "personal reasons."

Here Are Duties Of Fireman On Diesel Engine

NEW YORK — Progress on rails, as typified by the big swing to diesel-electric power, has altered the duties of the fireman. He has no fires to tend the way he did on old-style steam locomotives. Then he had to shovel coal from the tender into the fire box, check on water level and steam pressure in the boiler and watch for signal lights when not otherwise occupied.

The diesel has changed all this. Here is the new picture, as given by a railroad spokesman to the Associated Press.

Today's fireman sits on the left side of the locomotive cab. Before him are gauges showing the amounts of fuel and water in the tanks. He keeps an eye on these. He also must watch the track ahead, observe and call to the engineer the status of signal lights the train is approaching.

In the present strike against four railroads, the firemen contend a third man should be added to the normal engineer-fireman crew for safety considerations. The railroads and two Presidential fact-finding boards have disputed this.

During cold weather, on passenger diesels, the fireman is required to start the steam generator going and check its pressure. If this pressure is too high, he can push a button and release some of the steam.

If trouble develops in the diesel motors, the train is halted. The fireman goes back to check on the difficulty.

Railroad operating officials say that if he pushes the automatic starters without result, a relief locomotive usually is called for.

Even on the later types of steam locomotives, generally used in all main-line non-diesel operations, the old coal-shoveling days are gone.

Automatic stokers feed powdered coal to the fire. The fireman turns a valve to operate it, and by use of a steam jet he can shoot the coal to any part of the fire box.

Birds Nest In Truck, So He Buys Another

WISE, VA. — (AP) — Lee F. Craiger fond of birds.

A month ago Craiger went out in his heavy truck one morning to find that a wren had built her nest in the tool compartment and was sitting snugly on a nest of eggs.

Craiger hated to disturb that bird.

So he bought another truck to use while the mama wren hatched her young.

Now he's receiving congratulations. The nest is full of baby birds but Craiger still won't budge the truck until they've feathered and flown away.

Two Escanabans Will Attend KC State Meeting

Richard Juetten, grand knight of the Escanaba council of Knights of Columbus, and Alfred Provencher, deputy grand knight, are leaving early next week for Mt. Clemens, Mich., to attend the state convention of the Michigan Knights of Columbus, on May 20, 21, and 22.

Joseph N. Lequia, district deputy, planned to attend, but is ill in a hospital in Grand Rapids.

Path Greased Up To Pass Budget Bill At Lansing

revenue from the federal government is expected to cut their operating money about 2 1/2 per cent, the same cut meted out to the teacher-training colleges.

The university was offered $11,572,945, compared with $11,436,315 this year, but with $606,000 held back to be released if too much GI money is lost.

Michigan State was offered $9,388,002, compared with $9,284,190, with $910,000 held back.

The bill would give the university $1,500,000 to start a $2,800,000 out-patient clinic, Michigan State $1,400,000 to start a $2,400,000 veterinary science building and Wayne University $112,000 to plan a $2,800,000 medical center.

Colleges Cut — Higgins wants to cut the building money for Michigan and Michigan State to $1,000,000 each and apportion the saving among the state-supported colleges for operating money.

"What's the use of building more buildings if the colleges can't operate?" Higgins asked.

These are some of the recommended appropriations for agencies and institutions, followed by their current year grants:

Michigan College of Mining and Technology — $1,144,916, $1,203,872; Sault Branch — $296,060, $337,095; purchase of 480 acres at parent school, $6,500.

Central Michigan College of Education — $1,143,582, $1,183,404; $500,000 for completion of physical education building.

Critic Of Pentagon Retires From Navy To Run For Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Captain John G. Crommelin, outspoken critic of defense department unification moves, announced today that he has requested retirement from the navy.

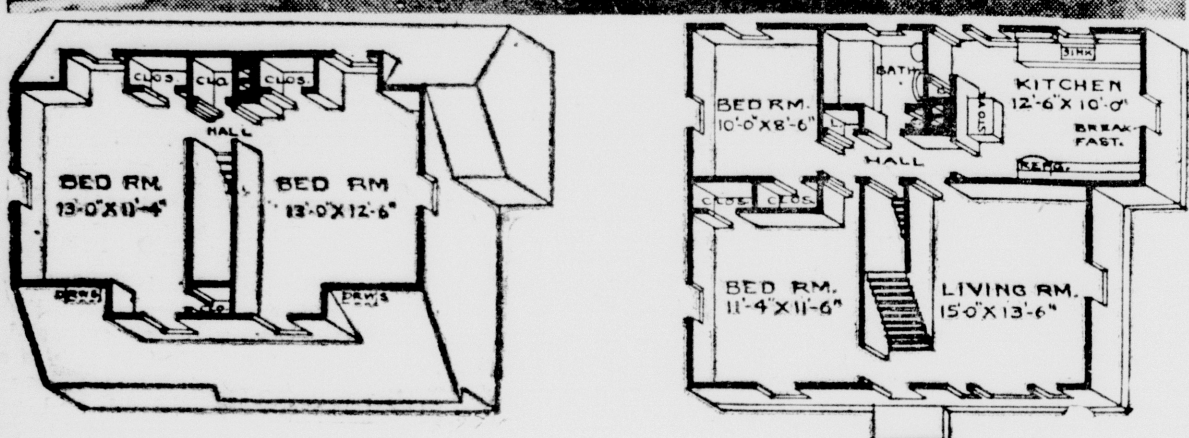

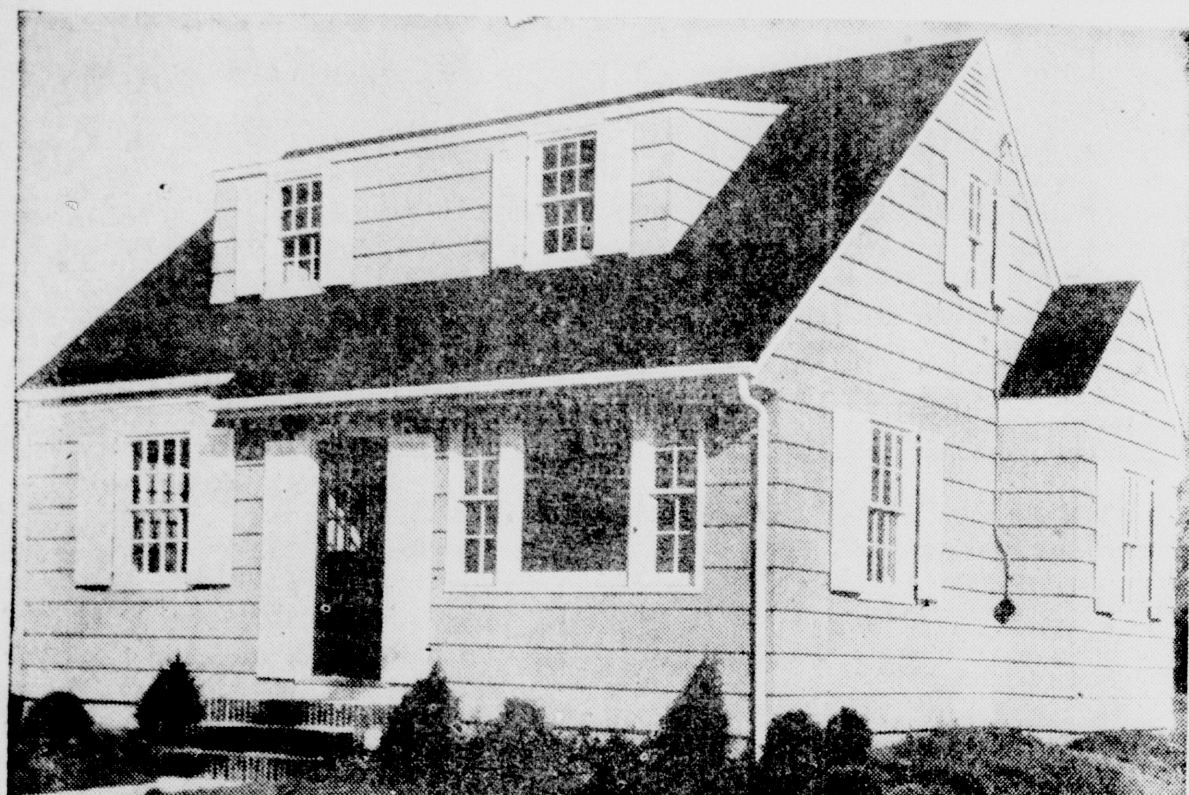

The request, he said, was a "required followup" to his decision to run for the U. S. Senate from Alabama. Crommelin entered the Senate race as an independent May 1 after the navy placed him on enforced furlough.

A top naval air ace, he was furloughed after charging in a series of public addresses that the defense department was scuttling naval air power and showing undue favor to the air force.

ATLANTIC CITY

An Ideal Home; All
On One Floor

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Four
Closets Nine
Cubage 12,500
Dimensions 28' x 25'

The outside of The Atlantic City presents a compact and modest appearance. Either wood shingles or clapboards can be used as exterior wall covering. The dormers back and front mean there will be small slanting walls upstairs, and the ell at the back on the right adds to an otherwise plain look.

The picture window in the front wall flanked by smaller windows that open, is balanced by a regular window with shutters on the other side. Note that shutters are provided on the front door, in keeping with all the windows on the house.

The roof projects over the front door, sheltering it somewhat from the rain, and over the picture window. This prevents the hot Summer sun from shining directly in. Louvers at either end of the attic provide ventilation. House is fully insulated.

The front door opens into a hallway which is actually part of the 15 by 13-foot living room. The open stairway to the second floor is opposite and at the left is the door to one of downstairs bedrooms. The living room is so designed that there is plenty of wall space. Yet ample light is provided by the side window and the three windows on the front.

Glass panes in the door also are an aid in brightening the room. Homemakers will find the picture window will be a great help in decorating since the view outdoors will seem part of the room. The smaller windows to the side will admit ventilation. For economy reasons a fireplace has been omitted but one could be built into the side wall.

A door in the back wall gives access to a short hall. The kitchen and breakfast nook are next to the living room at one end of this hall and at the other end are two bedrooms. The bath is between the kitchen and rear bedroom. Doors to the cellar stairs and the linen closet open into the hall.

The modern kitchen measures 12 by 10 feet. The stove is to the left inside the swinging door and the refrigerator is on the front inside wall.

Underneath the window on the back wall is the sink in the center of a counter and overhead and underneath are cupboards. Also on the back wall is another window and the glazed back door.

Closet in Bathroom
Opposite the back door is a broom closet or storage cupboard which backs up to the chimney. Just inside the bathroom is another closet. The breakfast nook is located by the side window which helps brighten the cupboards and work counter by the refrigerator.

The bedroom at the end of the hall is an ideal room for children. Measuring 10 by 8 feet, 6 inches, it has a large closet in the inside wall, just inside the door. Bunks could be built on either the wall near the closet or the wall next to the bathroom. Two windows provide light and cross ventilation.

The front bedroom is approximately 11 feet square. The closet is on the inside corner and two windows provide cross ventilation. Ample wall space is left for a bed and dresser or chests. This room could be converted into a den or library when the upstairs is completed.

When the time comes for expansion, the upstairs can be finished. At the head of the stairs is a small hall. Opposite is a closet and to each side are doors to the bedrooms. Just inside each bedroom, on the back wall, is a closet, adjacent to a window. These windows are made possible by the dormer.

3 Windows in Bedrooms
Each bedroom has two additional windows, one each on the front and side walls. Built-in drawers also are provided in the front hall of each room.

The bedroom to the right is 13 by 12 feet, 6 inches and the bedroom at the left is 13 by 11 feet, 4 inches. The bays provided by the front and back dormer windows are excellent places for mother to do her knitting or sewing or for the children to play.

The bedroom at the left has an additional closet in the front hall, behind the stair well. This could easily and quickly be converted to a built-in dresser with daylight ideally provided by the nearby window.

Complete plans and specifications for "The Atlantic City" and other houses in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 15, Daily Press and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Today's Recipes

Pork Chops With Stuffing
(Serves 4)
Four thick chops, 1 cup crumbs, 1 tart apple, finely diced, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 small onion, grated, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, warm water, 1/2 cup tomato juice.

Trim most of fat from edge of chops; chop fine. Add remaining ingredients (except tomato juice) to the fat with warm water sufficient to make a moist but not wet stuffing. Shape into mounds over chops. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes to 1 hour, adding 1/2 cup tomato juice after 15 minutes of cooking.

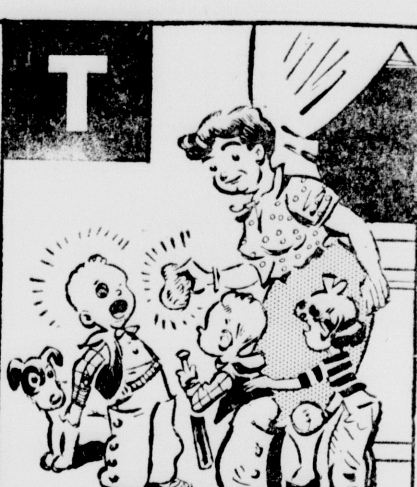

In the early days of experiments in television and long before radio, researchers talked about "seeing by telegraph."

M is for... well, let's say modern. She plays "cowboy," hikes and fishes.

O is for her outlook—cheerful—all a fellow ever wishes.

T is for kids' many troubles; she absorbs 'em by the dozen.

H is happy, which is why that house of ours is always buzzin'.

E is for enthusiasm—let's just call it lots of pep.

R is realistic, or, in other words, she's hep.

Put them all together, they spell mother, don't they, pal?

But the kids just call her Mom, and you'll agree she's quite a gal.

LUDINGTON
BUY-LINES

by Sue Donimus

THEY said that warm feeling on my back the other day was the sun! If sunny days are here again, it's time to dust off that camera and get it loaded up at the Photo Art Shop. You seniors better be capturing these last few high school days on some film. Mr. Sullivan at the Photo Art can give you all sorts of advice (and equipment) for better picture taking.

SURE I wear lipstick and do my daily dozens, but there's another kind of paint and body work that interests me too. Well, every woman likes to see the family car looking nice, doesn't she? And the paint and body work at Northern Motor Co. is out of this world! Did you know you could pay for repair work at Northern Motor on the installment plan? For instance, you could have those brakes relined for $1.25 down and $1.25 a month payments. Since this is Safety Month, you really auto do it!

IF your windows give you a pane, what you need are some of the gay plastic draperies I found at Montgomery Ward's this week. For only $1.59 you can hang the lovely straight, flowered panels at your windows for new Spring beauty! The adorable cottage sets in either polka dots or checks come in red, green and blue and are priced as low as 98c to $1.49. See them at Ward's.

THE class prophecy is just for laughs, but here's a prophecy I can make that's on the serious side. If the future for your graduate holds a Smith Corona Portable, you can be assured it will be bright. Why? Well, whether it's for use at college or in a business career, the all new Smith-Corona is the world's fastest typewriter. It's new colorspeed keyboard has rimless keys that are shaped to cup the fingertips. You just slide a pointer along an easily read scale for those quick-set margins. And what speed in those typebars! Let that senior graduate now to a Smith-Corona Portable from the Office Service Company!

CAN'T wash the clothes? With that old thing! Get on your toes—Give Ted a ring. Washing machine Will run like new! Isn't it keen?

What Ted can do? I take all my repair work to Ted's Fix-it Shop, 1626 Ludington. Quick, reasonable service!

WITH that beautiful face and those smooth lines it's no wonder the little 21 jewel Bulova watch I saw at Garrard's is an Academy Award Winner! This trim style comes in white or yellow gold for your girl graduate. There are handsome Elgin, Hamilton and Bulova watches for both fellows and girls at Garrard Jewelers and NOW is HOUR to buy this lifetime gift—not a second to lose!

DON'T forget your handkerchief when you go to see "Father Was a Bachelor" at the Delft Theater Sunday or Monday. This is one of those wonderful pictures in which you laugh while you cry! Shall I brief you?—William Holden, a footloose wanderer who has soured on life, becomes a new guy as five appealing kids sneak into his affections when his heart isn't looking. The picture is set in the Ohio River Valley in the days of traveling medicine shows and river steamers. This makes a perfect picture to take Mother to on HER DAY.

HE was her man, but he done her wrong! One man that can do no wrong is Russell Wright. Famous for his designing in pottery, Russell Wright means "just right" to connoisseurs of fine tableware. At Eden's Gift Shop, the gift shoppers paradise, I struck up an acquaintance with American Modern Dinnerware and Glassware by Russell Wright. The design is unique... the plates very flat with almost a brim edge. In rich shades of chartreuse, coral, gray and sea foam, you may have your table set in mix or match 'em combinations. A 16 piece starter set for only $7.95 makes a gorgeous wedding present. The tinted hand-made glassware to match is reasonable too.

I'VE seen the women sigh and wave their men goodbye—fishing widows! The perch are biting at Garden and Nahma! And on May 21st the season opens for walleyes! That means it's time to check over that fishing equipment. Lots of new things at Gust Asp's—come in and ask questions—you're under no obligation to buy. At Asp's there's a rod for every fish—split bamboo, Hollister, glass. If you want to improve your bait or fly casting, ask to see one of the carefully balanced rod and reel combinations.—Well, guess I'll see if I can get up a bridge game with some of those "fishing widows".

Successful Year

NAHMA—The Nahma Parent-Teacher association closed a highly successful year with its meeting at the school Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance of members and friends.

Parents were urged to continue to take an active part in the Parent Teacher organization and its activities during the coming school year, beginning with the first meeting in September. Being a member and attending meetings, it was pointed out, shows interest in children's education and offers an excellent opportunity to meet teachers and check on children's progress.

Mrs. A. B. Bernier, president, appointed the following chairman for the coming year: finance, Lew Bramer; lunch, Mrs. Joe Labadie; program, Mrs. Lew Bramer; hospitality, Mrs. Kenneth Lavigne; historian, Miss Nora Holden; publicity, Mrs. Henry Sargent.

NEW JUSTICE TAKES OVER

—Elected justice of the peace at Monday evening's meeting of the Manistique City Council, Victor Deemer, promptly posted bond and went through the necessary formalities of qualifying for the office the next morning and is now in charge of the city's hall of justice.

Something of a darkhorse in the scramble for the position for which sixteen residents had made formal application, Deemer was elected by the council by a unanimous vote. Eleven applicants had remained in the race up to the time the council members made their choice known.

Judge Deemer is 68 years old, married, and resides at 320 South Maple avenue.

Coming here as a child with his parents, he is a resident of the community of long standing. For many years he conducted a cigar manufacturing business in the building now occupied by the Dupont Barber Shop. Later he ran a sporting goods store in connection with his cigar business. Then, appointed game warden in this area, he served in that capacity until about ten years ago when he opened up a gas service station on Deer street which he operated until two years ago.

Mr. Deemer's long residence here and intimate acquaintance with all parts of the county gives him an understanding insight into its affairs. Rated as a very conscientious and efficient game warden his attitude toward game violators will be of small comfort to any such. (Photo by Linderorth)

Suffers Mishap
On Fish Boat

Wally Vertz, employed by the Jensen Fish Company, is still trying to figure out how he escaped serious injury in a mishap that tore the clothing from his body, but caused only minor injury.

Late Wednesday afternoon, while cleaning out the bilge, on the fishing tug, "Peter J", his clothing came in contact with the propeller shaft. Before the propeller could be brought to a stop his clothing was practically stripped from his body.

He suffered numerous bruises, the most serious of which was an elbow. Taken to the hospital here, his injuries, while numerous and painful, were found to be of a minor nature. He is now recuperating at his home.

City Bus Line

Last Run To Be
Sunday Night

Manistique will again be without city bus service.

Earl Winn, who since Jan. 3 has maintained a regularly scheduled service from one end of the city to the other, has decided that the compensation from the business is not worth the effort.

The operation was in the nature of an experiment, says Winn.

"On the third of January I started a transfer service to run for a few months for the purpose of finding out the demand for low priced transportation," he said. "Should the demand be sufficient I intended to put on a large station wagon or small bus."

The response the first few months, Winn states, was very good, but later the number of passengers carried has lessened and the result is clearly shown that Manistique will not support a bus line.

Between the launching of the venture and the present, the service was disrupted only one day, the shutdown being due to engine trouble.

The service will be discontinued after next Sunday night.

Technical Aid
Bill Adopted

Foreign Countries
Will Get Advice

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—By a squeak margin of one vote the Senate adopted the Point 4 program to give technical and other assistance to countries in need of such help. Here is Senator Taft in the closing hours of debate on the foreign aid bill:

"Under it (Point 4) it is proposed that $45,000,000 more of the American taxpayers' money be spread around the world in places where there is no particular demand for it. It is simply an idea summoned out of someone's mind of some other way the government money can be spent, of some other way the United States can go around the world and assume to interfere with the affairs of other people and try to improve the standards of living of other people."

"Mr. President, this nation is wholly incapable of improving the standards of living of peoples of India and China. That is beyond our capacity."

Should Read Reports
Senator Taft should read for his education the reports for the last 20 years or so of the Rockefeller Foundation. He should read the reports of medical missionaries sent by various American churches to remote parts of the world. He is denying the great accomplishments of Americans in introducing new techniques in health, in agriculture, in industrial production—yes, in raising living standards of peoples everywhere. This is something we can all take pride in. It is part of the American achievement, the American heritage.

Three days after the Taft speech, the Rockefeller Foundation published its review of work done around the world in 1949. It is a stirring account of what American techniques, American brains, American good will can do.

One of the most thrilling stories is of the project on the Italian island of Sardinia. For hundreds of years Sardinia has been known as an unhealthy place to live because of the widespread prevalence of malaria. Sardinia, with its 9,300 square miles, supported only one-third as many persons per square mile as the overcrowded mainland of Italy because people didn't want to go there to live.

In 1946 the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration supplied the funds for an attack on the plague of malaria and the malarial mosquito on Sardinia. The Rockefeller Foundation supplied the funds for an attack on the plague of malaria and the malarial mosquito on Sardinia. The Rockefeller Foundation supplied the trained experts and $375,000 in additional money.

Malaria Beaten
After three years of intensive work malaria has been wiped out and the malarial mosquito all but destroyed. In 1949 for the first time in history not a single case of malaria was reported. The total cost to the end of 1950 will be about $12,000,000. This is how the Rockefeller report sums up:

"While the project is still in the mopping-up stages and must be followed by strict quarantine and insect-control services, numerous benefits are already apparent. The absence of the debilitating effect of malaria has significantly raised the health level of the population. House-spraying operations, which wiped out flies and other domestic insects as well as mosquitoes, have lowered infant mortality rates and the incidence of intestinal infection. The elaborate program of drainage and clearing, which was essential in the island-wide operations, has made available a great many acres of land for human habitation and agricultural development."

"The island, formerly an economic liability, is emerging as Italy's new frontier. Sardinia is now a healthy place to live and work."

U. S. Has Know-How
While this may not be exactly the pattern of Point 4, it is in essence the sort of thing that would be done. American know-how would be exported on a modest scale where it is desperately needed. Yet, ever, on a modest scale it could be an enormous stimulus to better living in large areas of the earth.

The defeatist, the pessimist, the cynic says, "Oh, what do you want to do that for? You keep more of those standard people alive and then they reproduce faster and you just have another kind of a problem in starvation and overpopulation."

There might have been some truth in that 20 years ago. But new techniques of agriculture, health, industry and so on today make it possible for almost every-

Rialto Bldg.Garbage Rules
Are ViolatedAshes, Refuse Must Be Placed In Cans

Non-compliance with the regulations of the city garbage ordinance in a number of instances is reported to city authorities by Joe Larson, operator of the garbage collection service.

The violations in the main are failure to place refuse and ashes in receptacles so that the matter may be handled with dispatch.

As a result City Manager H. J. Henrikson points out the ordinance provides: "that no person, firm or corporation owning or occupying any lot, building or premises in the City of Gladstone shall allow any garbage or refuse to accumulate and remain on said lot or premises for a period of time in excess of that herein stated as frequency of collection: (weekly)."

He also reminds local residents that suitable containers must be furnished and the refuse or ashes placed there-in for collection. Separate containers or receptacles for ashes and refuse must be used.

Enforcement of the ordinance will be made after May 22. That date happens to coincide with that selected for the local Clean City campaign.

An inspection of all alleys in the city will be made after the 22nd and action taken where it is found necessary.

Fire Protection
Costs Are Growing

CHICAGO—(P)—Fire protection costs are rising. Fire departments spent the equivalent of $3.01 for each resident last year in cities of more than 10,000 population. That was an increase of almost ten per cent over 1948. The chief reason, says the International City Managers Association, was higher wages.

Week-end ramblings. Eleventh district American Legion junior baseball tournament will be held in Escanaba July 17-24. ... Newcomers on the Michigan State football schedule this fall will include Minnesota, Indiana and Pittsburgh. Others will be Michigan, Notre Dame, Oregon State, Marquette, Maryland and William and Mary. Note to Ray Ranguette: Thanks for the note. Glad you liked the opus. We're getting some cold stares as a result of it ... from the boys. Green Bay Packers are trying to sign Hal Otterback, former Menominee high school and University of Wisconsin tackle. "Jug" Girard hasn't made up his mind yet whether he will stick with pro baseball or play with the Packers again.

Apparently "rassling" has a long way to go in Milwaukee. Tuesday night the Rocky Graziano boxing show drew $19,575, the night before a boxing show, headlining Bronko Nagurski, drew only $8,134. Sam Jethroe, the Boston Negro who made such a poor showing in the spring training, is doing all right for himself. Currently he is leading the league in runs scored and in hits, second in triples and tied for second in stolen bases. When the Cincinnati Reds traded Walker Cooper to the Boston Braves for Connie Ryan, they got rid of their highest paid player.

Mel Holme, Stambaugh's great football player, was guest of the Minnesota Sportsman's club in Minneapolis last weekend. Wonder why Minnesota is interested in Holme? As if we didn't know. Coach Al Ikala of Trenary high school has 14 boys working out for track. Their first meet is the district at Marquette, May 20. Emil Pontow, freshman from Menominee, scored two touchdowns to give his "Blues" a victory over the "Whites" in a Carroll college intrasquad football game to wind up spring training. Blaine Schachczenski 180 pound freshman from Marinette, counted for the losers. End of the ramblings for today.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—(AP)—Who says an "Independent Minor League Club" can't be operated profitably these days? How about the Browns?... that "minor" is kidding, of course but it's kidding on the square since for the past few years the Browns have been a "farm" for most of the other American league clubs. ... and with more than a million bucks in the till from player sales, they can afford to be independent as all get out. ... and there'll be more. The Browns recently indicated their willingness to do business with the Yankees (though emphatically not for Dick Wakefield) and in spite of their low position in the standing, they always have something to sell. ... one of the best things about an operation like theirs is that a rookie or a major league castoff has a chance to become a star quickly. There aren't any established, high-salaried stars to displace.

CASH ON THE LINE Taking the semi-official figures, here's how to acquire a million merely by repeating firmly "a hunnert grand" every time a club owner comes around. ... the Browns collected $475,000 of Tom Yawkey's money, plus ten players, in three deals with the Red Sox. Vern Stephens and Jack Kramer brought $310,000; Al Zarilla $100,000 and Ellis Kinder and Bill Hitchcock $65,000. ... four other $100,000 deals were Sam Zoladak to Cleveland, Gerry Priddy to Detroit, Fred Sanford and Roy Pate to New York and Bob Dillingier and Paul Lehner to Philadelphia. ... the Indians gave up another $100,000 in three deals to get Johnny Berardino, Bob Muncrief and Red Embree. ... the small change was $25,000 from Washington for Sam Dente, a throw-in from the Red Sox, and $20,000 from the A's for Ray Coleman, who is back in the Brownie lineup. ... only record of a cash outlay for these athletes was $25,000 paid for Priddy.

THE DIFFERENCE IS IN MATERIAL In addition to the cash, the Browns acquired two dozen players in these assorted trades and eleven of them were on the St. Louis roster this spring. ... Dick Kokos, tossed in by Cleveland, looked good enough last year to attract another $100,000 offer, though he's riding the bench now; Al Widmar, Joe Ostrowski, Tom Ferrick, and Ray Star are pitching regularly for St. Louis and Coleman and Bill De Mays are in the lineup every day and Frank Gustine is the No. 1 utility man. You might say that's a good deal of playing talent.

CURRENT COMMENT In the course of the nullified Dick Wakefield deal, the Yanks' George Weiss said: "I have done everything possible to deliver Wakefield but put him in a strait jacket." The batting averages look as if the pitchers had attended to that. ... and when Jake "The Bull" LaMotta debates with John (Ox) Da Groat over the middleweight championship, it is surprising that there's a lot of beefing?

Tiger Rooters Get Good News On Newhouser

By CHARLES C. CAIN DETROIT—(AP)—Detroit Tiger fans got some good news today when the hitherto ailing Hal Newhouser was named to pitch against the St. Louis Browns here tomorrow. It will be the first appearance of the American league season for the 28-year-old lefthander who has been sidelined with a sore shoulder that cropped up in spring training. The first place Detroiters would be hopeful that Newhouser would show his old form since the additional pitching strength figures as an important factor in the league race. Manager Red Rolfe said the decision to start Newhouser was made after the veteran lefthander came to him in Boston Thursday and reported his ailing arm was okay. "I'd been waiting for Hal to make up his mind about the arm, for after all he is the one who knows best whether he's in shape to pitch," Rolfe explained. The Tiger manager revealed that Newhouser worked in the bullpen during the Red Sox doubleheader Thursday and might have been called in a relief role if needed. But he wasn't. "Hal pitched only four innings in exhibition games this spring but he has done a lot of work in the bullpen and should be ready," Rolfe added. The Tiger manager cautioned that Newhouser's lack of work to date might prevent him from going a full nine innings Sunday.

Mel Holme, Stambaugh's great football player, was guest of the Minnesota Sportsman's club in Minneapolis last weekend. Wonder why Minnesota is interested in Holme? As if we didn't know. ARMSTRONG OF UTAH NAMED MINNESOTA ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Ike Armstrong, athletic director at the University of Utah for 26 years, has been named to a similar post at the University of Minnesota. Minnesota's regents unanimously approved the recommendation of President J. L. Morrill. Armstrong will assume his post July 1, the effective date of the resignation of Frank McCormick, announced last fall. The amount of salary to be paid Armstrong was not announced. However, at the time of his interview with President Morrill several weeks ago there were rumors that Armstrong was asking $12,500 annually.

'Matter Of Ethics' Wakefield Dispute Becomes Sitdown

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—The Battle of Wakefield slowed to a sit-down today with Dick and baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler each waiting for the other to act. Wakefield, who in his major league career has gone from prize bonus player to the game's No. 1 problem child, says he is appealing an indefinite suspension of the New York Yankees slapped on him Thursday. Chandler says he's heard nothing about such an appeal "so right now I don't consider that I have a case on my hands." New York general manager George Weiss took action against the lanky, temperamental outfielder effective as of April 29, the date Wakefield refused to report to the Chicago White Sox in a trade. Later Chandler ruled that Wakefield was still Yankee property. Dick's suspension by the Yanks followed quickly. But Dick claimed the trade was illegal and argued the suspension must be just as illegal. Waiting out the battle at his home here, the former Detroit Tiger said it was a matter of "baseball ethics."

Speedway Favorite Wrecks His Racer

INDIANAPOLIS —(P)—Troy Ruttman, who was the favorite to win the pole position in the qualifications today for the 500-mile Memorial day race, wrecked his Boves Seal fast special yesterday. The 23-year-old Ontario, Calif., driver set an unofficial one-lap record of 131.328 miles an hour for a rear-drive car and then snuck into the wall on his next time around. Ruttman escaped with a scalp wound, wrenched back and mild concussion. His car is out of the race.

Bowling Congress Erases Race Ban

COLUMBUS, Ohio—(P)—The American Bowling Congress tournament is now open to members of all races, effective next year. Delegates to the ABC convention here yesterday wiped out in just 27 minutes a 34-year-old clause limiting membership in the Congress to "white males only." No concerted opposition to lifting of the restriction developed on the floor. Only a few dissenting voices were heard among the 518 delegates to the 47th annual convention. Michael J. Dunn of Milwaukee, ABC legal counsel, hinted the convention action would nip court suits now pending in Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and New York. A suit also has been potential in Michigan. The text of the amendment: "The American Bowling Congress shall be a representative, legislative and executive body and shall have complete and final jurisdiction over all affiliated associations, leagues, tournaments and individual members. Its membership shall be composed of individual males affiliated through a chartered city association which is represented on the parent body by duly elected delegates and alternates. "Delete the word 'white' wherever it appears in the constitution, rules and regulations of the American Bowling Congress." The delegates also followed the recommendations of the executive directors in acting on several other amendments. Outstanding among the changes was one permitting the rounding of the bottom of pins on a 5/32-inch radius, an innovation expected to result in higher scores since pins will topple easier. Other amendments permitted fiber edges along the alley beside the pins and allowed the naming of co-champions, instead of requiring a roll-off, in case of ties in state tournaments. Joe Palladini, a 43-year-old Cleveland baker, tied for fourth place in the singles yesterday in the current tourney with a 697. Tom Rooney, Detroit, moved into sixth place in the all-events with 1881. Rooney had 603 in the team event, a whopping 722 in doubles and 556 in singles. Rooney's partner, Gil Reppenhagen, had 558 for their doubles scores of 1230. ACCLAIMED BY UNION DETROIT—(P)—The American Bowling Congress action in dropping its "white males only" limitation was described today by the CIO United Auto Workers union as "a great victory for the forces of progress and democracy in America."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and William H. Oliver, co-chairmen of the union's fair practices department, said the UAW was proud of its role in a three-year campaign to get ABC to "throw out its discrimination rule." The action, they added in a joint statement, "is a tribute to the effective work of the national committee for fair play in bowling, of which the UAW-CIO is proud to be a member organization."

Surge
DAIRY/FARM/EQUIPMENT

A lot of people like the SURGE!

That's why so many dairymen have waited for a Surge ... to get a machine that they will WANT to go right on using for years to come.

Because SURGE does give you all the time saving, and work saving plus milking speed and ease of cleaning that your money can buy. These things and SURGE SERVICE makes the SURGE keep right on being a good milking machine.

Wells

Mrs. Capitola Bloom and daughters, Georgia and Capitola, have moved into their own home in Bay View after spending the winter months with Mrs. Bloom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perry. Mr. and Mrs. Peter MacKnight and family of Jam Dam, near Wilson, spent Tuesday afternoon at the E. J. MacKnight home in the Chemical Plant.

Mrs. Frank Opolka and children, Frank, Jr., and Billy, of Vulcan, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Opolka of Wells. Frank Opolka, brother to Walter Opolka, returned with his family to Vulcan. Other recent visitors at the Opolka home were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Breclaw, and daughters, Alice and Katherine, also of Vulcan. Mrs. Opolka and Mr. Breclaw are sister and brother.

Dolores Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jacobsen, Wells, has been dismissed from St. Francis hospital after being under medical observation there for a week.

Women Are Complaining Nylon Hose Too Flimsy

By ROBERT C. RUARK

The latest press-agent stunt from Hollywood (and a pretty bald one, too) announces that milady's legs have once again taken precedence over her mizzens as the focal point of allure, and it just so happened that the assassin of the plump sweater had a list of the 10 best-legged ladies with him. That he makes stockings for a living concerns me not. He had better start making them stouter.

RUARK

I just mirror a practically universal female complaint when I say, quote, that nylon stockings ain't what they used to be when Father was younger. This is a tougher topic than the H-bomb, for hell contains no comparable fury to a dame who creeps a runner when she is merely sitting in a chair with her knees crossed, doing no harm to nobody.

This is strictly a scrap I wouldn't referee with a ball bat in one hand and a chemist in the other. All I know is that the frailty of modern nylons is the topic, in outraged soprano, in all the powder rooms, and don't ask me how I know. It may destroy the basic structure of my benevolent espionage system.

The nylon manufacturers may swear on a stack of supporters that today's deniers are wrought of spun Toledo steel, but they will convince no woman that some evil spirit isn't stirring cobwebs into the soup which congeals into hose. Cobwebs or soap-bubbles. Give me no tough talk about the staying powers of mama's leg-enhancers. There is a tame woman on my premises, and the sound of exploding stockings makes like

Saturday night in a champagne salon.

Topic of Conversation

This female and her friends have discarded Ingrid Bergman and the brutality of man as favorite fixtures, and spend most of their vocal hours working out on stockings. I will attempt a sample, hysterical quote, with no commas. "I am sick and tired of spending a fortune every week to keep my legs covered with stockings that go bust if you wrinkle an eyebrow let alone cross a leg stooping over is sheer suicide and if the manufacturers say it is because the stockings are sheerer now than before the war that is a lot of sheer stuff-and-nonsense give me the pre-war stockings every time only when the war started I only had four pairs and two pairs lasted me six months and the other two pairs lasted me another six months and now I pop a pair a day and so do the salesgirls and the other working women who have to wear the heavier service-weight hose don't tell me they didn't make 'em tougher when the competition with silk was stronger than it is now and if the Japs will start sending us silk I will wear silk and damn! there goes another runner and I will wear 10 pairs of today's for one pair of the 1941 nylons and I don't care who's right and who's wrong they just don't last any more and I am sick and tired of it and blast! there goes the other leg."

Wear Cotton Socks

This concerns me not at all, since I always wear white cotton socks, and am a great admirer of Miss Jane Russell as opposed to Miss Charlotte Greenwood, but it would be well to warn the manufacturers that a woman is a difficult creature to handle when she thinks she is getting the old who-struck-John from the factory. Get enough women sour enough on any product and they will outlaw

Grand Marais

Parents of Daughter

GRAND MARAIS—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meldrum announce the arrival of a daughter, Mary Catherine, who weighed six pounds and fifteen ounces, born Wednesday morning, May 10, at 10:25 at Tahquamenon general hospital in Newberry. Mary Catherine is the second child and the first daughter in the family.

Five Hundred Club

Mrs. Steve Tornovich was hostess to the East Town five hundred club at her home Wednesday evening with Mesdames Louis Dowell, Edward Soldenski, Clement Soldenski, James Thornton, Lee Busch, Theodore Senecal, Rex Block, Charles Elckner, Francis Lundquist and Albert Grasser present. Mrs. Thornton had high score and Mrs. Senecal received the guest award.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Killoran

it and gang up to start a fresh trend.

They will fight you in the tea-rooms, in the little-girls-rooms, at the cocktail table and in the dress-making salons. If they are sufficiently dissatisfied with stockings, they will make high-style of bobbysox with evening dresses or take up hip-boots as the latest chic-step from Vogue or Harper's. If enough of the fashion prophets preach from the mountain top, they will even cut off their legs and the hobble around on raw kneecaps as a sign of faith in Faith.

I have done some research on the flimsiness of today's legware, and so far I can only report that the stockings are the same as always. It gets me nowhere.

and daughter have returned to Fairport after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Tornovich.

Miss Patricia Lee of Cleveland, O. is spending her vacation with relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Katolic left for Charlevoix enroute to their new home on Beaver Island, and were accompanied that far by Daniel Roberts who continued on to Toledo, O. where he will be employed. They visited Mr. and Mrs. John Balma and son, Jackie, former Grand Marais residents, in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCartney have returned to Newberry after a visit here with their children and members of their families.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson have returned from Maplewood, Ill., where they spent the winter season.

Mrs. Anna Seabeck has returned home from McCleary Clinic, Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Beverly Bugg who has been working in Waukegan, Ill., is here now with his children.

HEARING AID SCIENCE ADVANCES

Maico research has produced a new hearing aid which embodies features never before found in a hearing instrument. If you are not obtaining satisfaction from your present model, this instrument will give you—

- More power for the severely deafened
- More hearing in large groups with many people talking
- Most invisible hearing correction possible—no button in the ear, and yet with these advanced features the new Maico is free of case or clothing noise, it is silent under your clothing.
